WELCOME TO SCREENING THE SCENE: RETHINKING EUROPEAN FILM COMPETITIVENESS - INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE!

A space for critical exchange, bold ideas and collaborative futures in the European film industry. At a moment when streaming platforms disrupt traditional distribution, AI reshapes storytelling and production and underrepresented communities continue to demand visibility and participation, the urgency is no longer whether the industry must adapt, but how and who will lead this transformation.

Together, we will explore the intersections of people, technology and institutions, engaging with pressing questions of policy, representation, innovation and equity. The idea of this conference is to provide an open space - whether you are an academic, student, artist, policymaker, technologist, journalist, or simply curious: we welcome you to join in, connect, contribute and enrich the exchanges with us. This document is here to serve you as a general conference guide as we collectively reimagine the future of European film through dialogue, creativity and vision.

KEY CONTACTS

For general inquiries, please contact us over info@thereboot-project.eu. For urgent matters, please contact the following people. We also have a Whatsapp channel where you can chat with us and the other people attending the conference (open for both virtual and in person attendees).

A NOTE TO PRESENTERS

When you are presenting please make sure to send in your slides in advance by uploading them to this online folder before the 5th of October 2025.

WE ENJOY SHARED LITERATURE

We value the sharing of research and creative work. If you would like to make the paper you presented available, or if you are involved in a magazine, journal or artistic collective related to European film studies, you are warmly invited to bring your materials along. Papers, flyers and other printed items - whether sample copies or free distributions will be welcomed. A dedicated space will be set up within the conference venue for participants to exchange and explore the contributions of colleagues working across European film.

Online Participation: Online participation is open to all register here

Wi-Fi: Eduroam connection is provided for existing and guest users across the premises of the University. For instructions, please consult relevant posters at the venue or ask any member of the organising team.
